

50 STATES NETWORK COOKIE POLICY

50 States Network use cookies across our network of sites which include usavillarentals.com, Americanvillarentals.com, usavacationvillas.com americanvacationvillas.com and usavrbo.com. We want to make sure your experience when using our network of sites is positive, useful and smooth. To offer this we use cookies and other similar technical data to do this. We let you know about the use of cookies on our network of sites by a notification symbol at the bottom right side of our sites.

Cookies are used to make our web sites work or perform more effectively. Cookies are small text files using letters or numbers which are down loaded onto you're your computer, tablet or mobile device by web sites that you visit. Cookies are stored by your internet browser and every time you revisit a site your browser sends cookies back to our sites to improve your site experience.

Typical examples of cookie use on our network would include password remembrance, so when you visit our sites again you do not need to remember them, we also use cookies for pages viewed on our sites and time spent looking at pages also for targeting areas of interest. We use several different cookies on our network of sites including session cookies, advertising cookies and essential cookies these cookies enable our network to perform to optimal standards by allowing our users to have access to all the features of our sites, we also use these cookies for fraud prevention and fraud detection. Other examples of our cookie use include third party cookies which are used by our business partners to view how you view their advertisement, the information collected helps with decisions on preferences and interests. Essentials cookies cannot be turned off they solely act to perform essential functions which our network of sites require to deliver correct functionality to work. Certain cookies we use can be turned off in your web browser however this may lead to a less positive experience and certain features on our sites not being accessed.